Circular No.: 290 / 2026

Date : 15.10.2026

SUBJECT: PARTICIPATION OF SCOUTS, GUIDES, ROVERS AND RANGERS IN THE SEVA SANKALP ABHIYAN AN INITIATIVE OF MINISTRY OF EDUCATION

Dear Sir/Madam,

The Bharat Scouts and Guides is pleased to inform all State Associations about the SEVA SANKALP ABHIYAN – SEVA FIRST INNOVATION CHALLENGE, an initiative aimed at encouraging young people to identify community challenges, develop innovative solutions and contribute to nation-building.

The initiative provides an opportunity for our young people to translate the Scout and Guide spirit of service into practical, innovative and sustainable solutions for the benefit of society. Viksit Bharat @2047 calls for problem solving at a national scale. This Challenge turns the energy and spirit of service of India's youth towards problems local communities, and citizens face.

All State Associations are requested to disseminate the information contained in this circular among their affiliated schools, colleges, institutions District Associations, Local Associations, Scout Groups and Guide Groups and encourage eligible young people to participate actively.

Details of the initiative, eligibility conditions, participation guidelines and submission process are available at <https://sevafirst.mic.gov.in/> All interested participants and institutions must carefully read the official guidelines before preparing and submitting their entries.

Objectives of Participation

1. Encourage young people to identify real life problems in their communities and develop practical solutions.
2. Promote innovation, creativity, critical thinking, entrepreneurship and teamwork.
3. Connect community service activities with technology, sustainable development and social innovation.
4. Encourage Scouts, Guides, Rovers and Rangers to become active contributors to community development and nation-building.
5. Provide young people with opportunities to develop solutions that can be implemented and replicated in other communities.

Below are Few Ideas for our Units

- Zero Waste Schools: A practical model for reducing, segregating and recycling waste in schools and communities.
- Water Smart Community: A low-cost system for monitoring water use and promoting conservation.
- Scout / Guide Learning Companions: A peer learning model to support children requiring additional educational assistance.
- Accessible Community for All: Mapping barriers faced by persons with disabilities and proposing practical improvements.
- Safe School, Safe Community: Identifying hazards around schools and developing community-based safety solutions.
- Green Community Innovation: Converting biodegradable waste into compost for community gardens.
- Digital Saathi: Peer-led digital literacy and cyber safety education.
- Disaster Ready Neighborhood: Community hazard mapping and accessible emergency preparedness resources.

These examples are intended to stimulate original thinking. Participants are encouraged to identify problems in their own communities and develop solutions suited to local needs.

Important clarification: Participation through The Bharat Scouts and Guides does not, by itself, constitute registration for the challenge. State Associations and Scout/Guide units should ensure that interested participants coordinate with the eligible educational institution and follow the official procedure.

As per the information published for the current challenge, the submission deadline is 24 October 2026.

Participants and institutions are advised to verify the current schedule and all applicable requirements on the official portal and complete the submission process within the prescribed timeframe. Given the limited time available, State and Union Territory Associations are requested to circulate this information promptly.

The Bharat Scouts and Guides believes that young people are not merely the leaders of tomorrow but also innovators and agents of change today. Through their spirit of service, creativity and commitment to society, Scouts, Guides, Rovers and Rangers can contribute meaningfully to addressing local challenges and building a stronger, more sustainable and inclusive India.

All State Associations are requested to give this initiative wide publicity and encourage eligible young people to take advantage of this opportunity.

Let us inspire our young people to OBSERVE, INNOVATE, SERVE AND TRANSFORM their communities.

Thanking you,

Yours sincerely,

(Amar B. Chettri)
Director
